[Covington Commonwealth, October 5, 1900.] THE FRANKFORT STREET FAIR.

What is it I hear,
A noise without,
It sounds so queer,
It sounds so odd—
As crowd passes by
Like the waves of the sea,
I wonder why—
And what can it be?
I look and behold
Raining too and fro,
In confusion unold
Five thousand on the go,
And where they come,
Or whither they go
And what's to be done
The Lord only knows.
Perhaps it's a lynch mob
About to take place,
A burning and cinching
Like the Mayville case,
Or could Billy Bryan
Have struck the town
With his crowd defiant,
To break the cross?
Be it ill or well
I'll go and see
That no one shall
Get ahead of me—
On with the crowd
Pitched black and blue
I soon found out
Why all this ado.
It was "Street Fair"
On the opening day,
With its fun and flare,
Without prize or pay.
So all could come
And all were there
To share in the fun
Of the Frankfort Fair.
There were young and old,
There were black and white,
A few timid and many bold,
Many sober and many tight,
Some were good looking,
Others too ugly to sell,
And all were cooking
For 't was hot as hell—
Some had crooked legs,
Others none in name
Shoving through on wooden pegs
Got there all the same,
Some were humble hunchbacks,
Others proud and straight,
Some few cross-eyed backs
Got there little late.
Dog shows and balloon ascensions,
Minstrels and parades
Held the multitude's attention,
Also booths of trade
Showing merchandise in splendor,
While the peanut man would cry
Nearly bursting his suspender,
"The more you eat the more you buy."
Target shooting, running races,
Bicycle and horseback riding,
Brought the sweet to many faces,
Also kept the tickles slighting.
Throwing balls and blowing horn,
Was the common fad
Not you fuss—they'd say in scorn,
O ly oil maida get mad.
Throwing balls at dolls in rage,
Rings at walking canes,
"Riding Flying Dutchman" nags
To the organ's strains,
Drinking ice cold lemonade,
Polling chewing gum away,
Squeezing on the promenade,
Was the order of the day.
Baby shows with faces bright
Held the judges guessing,
While the fireworks at night
Kept the crowd a pressing.
Uncle Jay led Cousin Lizzy,
Carrying baby in his arms
While Aunt Susie's tongue kept busy
Feeling about it being so warm,
Saw she never would again
Bring that crowd to town,
During Street Fair—though it rains
Gold dollars to down.
Many funny things I've seen
Many a time I've had,
But to all the Fairs I've been,
Frankfort takes the rag, you bet.

THE KINDERGARTEN CHILD— AFTER THE KINDERGARTEN.

(From a Mother's Standpoint.)
In the first place let me say that I am not a kindergartner and never have been; neither have I any relatives or near friends who are kindergartners. But I have been privileged to send three of my children to a thoroughly good kindergartner, and have been so much helped and inspired in my own work by kindergartner thought and literature that I feel impelled to make some answer to the article on "The Kindergarten Child" which appeared in one of our leading magazines some time ago. The kindergartners and many leading teachers have ably defended the institution, but as far as I know the mothers have not been heard from.

The article in question made very interesting reading, but many of the statements are misleading and calculated to do great harm to the kindergarten cause.

Certainly all kindergarten children are not like "Freddie" and "Agnes;" and if they are typical of those whom Miss Carter saw during two years she must have been peculiarly unfortunate in her experience. Not only must the children have come from a kindergarten inefficiently managed, but they must all have been well spoiled at home.

It would take a nervously bad kindergartner to make all the children so self-conscious, so self-satisfied and so lacking in all habits of industry and accuracy as she represents them to be. If they had formed any correct habits at home, if the kindergartner child does not always exhibit all of the desirable characteristics of courtesy, obedience, promptness, patience and perseverance under difficulties why lay it to the kindergartner?

I have been occasionally an interested visitor to the kindergartner which my little ones attended, and have noticed a great difference in the restlessness, the carelessness, the general reliability and accuracy of the children. A kindergartner can not change the inborn and inherited nature of a child during the few hours that the child is under her care, especially if forces in the home are not working in harmony with her for the same object. The child should learn a measure of self-control, industry, etc., in the kindergarten; but if this is not supplemented by home influences the kindergartner's work is all uphill.

Earnest, thoughtful mothers and teachers certainly have a right to expect that the kindergartner shall be a help to them in their work. They have a right to expect that the children shall be not perfectly accurate, perfectly obedient, etc., but that they shall be more accurate, more thoughtful, gentle, courteous and obedient than they would otherwise have been. If these results are not in any degree apparent then mothers and teachers should certainly investigate the cause. It is not fair to take it for granted that the kindergartner principles are wrong. It should be remembered that there is as wide difference in kindergartners as in ministers, lawyers, or the members of any other profession. If, however, any mother or teacher has the mistaken impression that kindergartners training better fits children to be like little tubs that shall passively receive the sap of wisdom which she is prepared to pour into them she is likely to be disillusioned. For kindergartner children are inclined to ask questions, and sometimes disconcerting questions at that. They have been encouraged to do some thinking and observing on their own account.

Miss Carter fails to see how the occupations sewing, weaving, folding and paper-cutting can be of any practical value. These occupations give the children skill. For myself I believe that skill in any line helps in every other line of work, whether of brain or hand.

The kindergartners simply take these occupations, which are natural to the child because he delights to imitate his elders in their occupations, and gives to them an order and purpose, helping him thus to use his natural instincts and abilities in an orderly and progressive manner. Kindergartners do not claim that the kindergartner occupations, of whatever nature, are the only divinely appointed means by which children may learn neatness, order, accuracy, etc. Nor are kindergartners the only ones who believe that these desirable qualities may be indirectly inculcated. These same qualities of neatness, accuracy, industry and helpfulness are equally desirable in all departments of labor; and the child who, through paper folding or any other means, has learned to value these qualities will be not only a better individual but a better cook or stenographer.

I am glad to be able to say that I have found the kindergartner a help in securing obedience to a sense of duty and in developing the power of self-help. I have never expected to make a business of entertaining my children, and I have found that the kindergartner made them less independent.

As for kindergartner children thinking that they "know it all," that is a trait I have never discovered in any marked degree. In fact they seem to possess the very charming trait—in common with many other unschooled children—of thinking that mamma and papa and their other relatives are extremely wise people. Again, as for play—not work—being the ideal, it certainly was not so in this kindergartner. The various occupations constituted the children's work, and they were expected to put their best efforts into it, and to be satisfied with nothing less. Work done with a joyful freedom of spirit which we usually apply to play, is the ideal of the kindergartner; and as far as I was able to judge this ideal was reduced to practice.

I have visited five other kindergartners besides the one which my children attended. Such methods as number work as Miss Carter describes as being necessary in order to gain the interest of the kindergartner children I have never seen; and I have seen most excellent results from kindergartner methods in number work.

In fact there is not a point made against the kindergartner in the Atlantic article which I could not simply refute from my own experience.—Copied from "Kindergarten Review."

NO RIGHT TO UGLINESS.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth velvety skin, rich complexion. It will make a good looking, charming woman of a run down invalid. Only 50 cents at J. W. Gayle's Drug Store.

YOUTSEY TRIAL.

A jury was obtained in the Youtsey case by having jurors brought from Bourbon county to Georgetown.

The trial had progressed rapidly until Tuesday night, when Mr. Arthur Goebel was placed on the stand and began his testimony.

At this moment Youtsey became wild and frantic, shouting: "That's a lie. I never spoke to that man in my life. There is no blood on my hands. I never killed Goebel; all the devils in hell could not kill him." His mind seemed completely unbalanced, and four or five stout men could not control him. His wife and half-brother, Col. L. J. Crawford (one of his attorneys), tried to quiet him, but without avail.

After raving for some time and attempting to reach the witness, he finally collapsed completely, was taken to the jail, again becoming frantic, and was only quieted when powerful opiates were administered by his physicians.

Since then he has lain in a stupor and Dr. John A. Lewis, Dr. W. H. Coffman and Dr. J. A. Karriek say there is but slight hope of his ever again recovering consciousness.

His devoted wife is constantly at his bedside and doing all she can to bring her husband to consciousness, and the assaults of the ghouls in the newspapers have nearly broken her down.

The court has seemed determined to press the trial notwithstanding all, and has had the doomed man brought to the court house and placed on a cot in a jury room, where none but his wife and nurse are permitted to see him. Mr. Youtsey was so low yesterday as to cause a postponement of his trial until to-day.

SAD MISSION.

Rev. Dr. J. McCluskey Blayne left on Sunday night's C. & O. train for New York City, and thence to Cottlingen, Germany, where he was called by the dangerous illness of his little three-year-old granddaughter, Lucy Lindsey Blayne, child of Mr. T. Lindsey Blayne.

LATER—A cablegram gave the sad news on Monday that this dear little one had gone home.

BIG RISE.

The heavy rain of Saturday night and Sunday morning caused Benson creek to go on a tear. It ran out some four feet higher than the river, squarely across to the east bank. It mixed up logs, rafts, etc., at the mills near by, causing cables to snap like whip-cords. Luckily the river men were on hand and prevented any serious loss.

Nerve Food

If you have neuralgia, Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil will feed the nerve that is crying for food—it is hungry—and set your whole body going again, in a way to satisfy nerve and brain from your usual food.

That is cure.

If you are nervous and irritable, you may only need more fat to cushion your nerves—you are probably thin—and Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil will give you the fat, to begin with.

Cure, so far as it goes. Full cure is getting the fat, you need from usual food, and Scott's Emulsion will help you to that.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample, its agreeable taste will surprise you. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 69-71 Pearl Street, New York, 30c and 50c; all druggists.

TERRY-BLAKEMORE WEDDING.

The marriage of Miss Lida Terry to Mr. George H. Blakemore will take place at Evergreen Church, on Wednesday evening, October 31st, at 8 o'clock. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. B. F. Hungerford, of Shelbyville, the same minister who performed the ceremony at the marriage of Miss Terry's father and mother.

Miss Ann Crutcher, of Richmond, will be maid of honor, and Mr. Elsie Gaines, of Louisville, best man. The ushers will be Mr. June Gill, of Shelbyville; Mr. Clarence Julian, Mr. Carl Wilson and Mr. James A. Farmer, of this county.

The bridal party will be entertained at supper by the groom's mother, Mrs. Cordella Blakemore, immediately after the ceremony.

Miss Terry is the beautiful and accomplished daughter of Mrs. Rose Terry, of Bridgeport, whose graces of heart and mind have endeared her to a large circle of friends throughout the State. Mr. Blakemore is the oldest son of the late Mr. George Blakemore, of Farmdale, and is a most excellent gentleman and successful farmer, who is to be congratulated on the estimable young lady he has won as a life companion.

No other pills can equal DeWitt's Little Early Risers for promptness, certainty and efficiency. South & Longmoor, W. McKee Hardie.

FINE COURSE OF LECTURES.

The ladies of the Improvement Committee of the Methodist Church have secured three of the finest lecturers now on the platform, who will lecture in this city at the following times, and on the themes given below:

Hon. Geo. R. Wendling, on Wednesday evening, October 17, subject, "Mirabeau and the French Revolution."

Hon. Bob Taylor, ex-Governor of Tennessee, on Thursday evening, November 15, subject "Fiddle and the Bow."

Hon. Alf. Taylor, ex-Congressman (brother of ex-Gov. Bob) on Monday evening, December 3d, subject "Poetry and Pearls."

These lectures will be given in the Ball Room of the Capital Hotel. Tickets for reserved seats for the whole course, $1.50, or fifty cents for a single lecture. They may be had at Barrett's News Depot.

A rare series of lectures will be given, affording delightful entertainment and at the same time helping a good cause.

When you can not sleep for coughing it is hardly necessary that anyone should tell you that you need a few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to allay the irritation of the throat and make sleep possible. It is good. Try it. For Sale by J. W. Gayle, Druggist.

SAD EVENT.

We regret to learn that Master Sam. Bennett, Jr., son of Mr. Sam'l Bennett, sr., formerly clerk in the Auditor's Office under Auditor Stone, died at the home of his father on Thursday last.

The lad was a bright and manly little fellow, and had many friends in this city, where the family resided for four years.

The interment took place at Richmond on Friday.

SLIGHT BLAZE.

An alarm from box 28 called the fire boys to a house on the corner of the alley near the Big Bethel Colored Baptist Church, on Clinton street, at 11:30 Saturday morning. The fire destroyed a frame summer kitchen, inflicting damage to the extent of some $50.

FOUL PLAY.

The body of Mr. Elsie Woodside, which was found in the river on Sunday, September 30, and was buried, was exhumed and a post-mortem showed that the man's skull was broken at the base of the brain.

More work for the detectives.

SPECIAL TRAIN.

In order to give those desiring to hear Gov. Roosevelt speak in Louisville to-night an opportunity to do so and return home the same night, there will be a special train run from that city, through Shelbyville, to this city. The train will leave Louisville at 11:30 p. m. Special round trip rates.

Spare Women.

In former years when thin women wished to gain flesh and roundness of form they would take warm baths and follow this by rubbing along the skin cod liver oil. Now they employ the more elegant way of buying Scott's Emulsion and taking it internally. It increases the weight of thin babies and delicate children

Does It Pay to Buy Cheap.

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but not one that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible. If not possible for you, then in either case take the ONLY remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try one bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. For sale by S. H. Holmes.

OBITUARY.

The village of Millville and surrounding community is in mourning because of the conscious loss of one of her best and most beloved citizens.

William Thomas Turt was born in Woodford county, September 12, 1841, and died October 8, 1900, when he was 55 years, 10 months and 26 days old. He was a patriotic citizen, a devoted husband and an affectionate father, a faithful, conscientious church member, and a true friend. He was retiring in his disposition, simple in his manners, genial in conversation, cheerful in his disposition, always hopeful.

He died triumphant in the Christian faith. He had a bright hope of Heaven, and assured his friends and relatives that he was leaning on the everlasting arms, while standing on the sure promises of God.

He leaves a devoted wife, four sons and a large family connection to mourn his loss. The funeral was conducted at his residence, and on Thursday, October 9, at 12:30, was placed his remains in Frankfort cemetery, to rest till the resurrection morn.

"To him we trust a place is given. To rest with Christ and God in Heaven."

Good bye, kind friend, good-bye! We shall see you again, and you will have to strike hands on the other shore where there is no sorrow nor suffering nor sin.

"Lord, be with Thine and not our own."

Thou hast not done us wrong; We thank Thee for the precious loss Afforded us so long.

JNO. E. BRIGGS.

Do not get scared if your heart troubles you. Most likely you suffer from indigestion. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and gives the worn-out stomach perfect rest. It is the only preparation known that completely digests all classes of foods; that is why it cures the worst cases of indigestion and stomach trouble after everything else has failed. It may be taken in all conditions and can not help but do you good. South & Longinoor, W. McKee Hardie.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Master Marshall Adams, oldest son of Rev. M. B. Adams, was to fall from the top of the yard fence at Col. Tom. Rodman's, on the South Side, to the pavement, cutting a gash in the top of his head some two inches long.

Surgical attention was at once rendered, and the little fellow is now all right.

The wonder is that he was not killed, as he fell squarely on the top of his head.

All except bad ones!

There are hundreds of cough medicines which relieve coughs, all coughs, except bad ones! The medicine which has been curing the worst of bad coughs for 60 years is Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Here is evidence:

"My wife was troubled with a deep-seated cough on her lungs for three years. One day I thought of how Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved the life of my sister after the doctors had all given her up to die. So I purchased two bottles, and it cured my wife completely. It took only one bottle to cure my sister. So you see that these bottles (one dollar each) saved two lives. We all send you our heartfelt thanks for what you have done for us."—J. H. BURTON, Macon, Ga., Jan. 13, 1899.

Now, for the first time you can get a trial bottle of Cherry Pectoral for 25 cents. Ask your druggist.

IN MEMORIAM.

Nellie, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Newton, of Switzer, aged nine years, died on Sunday last. She has gone to join that angel band, where sickness, pain and death are feared and felt no more. To the grief-stricken family we extend our profoundest sympathy.

The remains were placed in the Switzer cemetery.

Jesus called our little Nellie To the angels' home above;
In that bright and golden city, There to bask in beams of love.

Mother, hear the sound of footsteps, Little footsteps by thy side,
Of the one that crossed the river, Of the darling one that died.

Hear you not the angel music Of the child voice, hushed in death?
In thy soul it will be sounding, Even till thy latest breath.

Those calm eyes, so full of beauty, Windows of the inner soul,
They are shining, free from sorrow, Where no waves of sin can roll.

Weep not, mother, do not sorrow, For your treasure over there,
To a better land transported, Free from worldly pain and care.

There are thorns along the pathway Of this fleeting mortal life;
Then rejoice that she was taken, 'E'er she knew the ways of strife.

She will have a harp in heaven, She'll be joining the glad "new song,"

With the angels and the children, While the ages glide along.

Weep not, mother, for thy darling, Mourn not for thy angel one;
Do God's will, you then shall meet her When your earthly journey's done.

WAY DOWN EAST.

William A. Brady's production of the New England comedy, "Way Down East," has proven to be one of the biggest successes yet recorded at McKiever's Theatre, Chicago, where the play has been running already seven weeks to such crowds that hundreds of people have been turned away at every performance. "Way Down East" will be at Macaulay's theatre the week of October 16th, with the same big production that was presented for 427 times in New York City, and directed from McKiever's Theatre, Chicago, where the past seven weeks it has been presented 72 times to nearly 95,000. It is said that over 150,000 people have witnessed the various performances; it was by far the greatest success financially as well as artistically of any play ever presented in the Windy City, exceeding by many thousands the great business of "Sporting Life," "The Red Ruby" and "Quo Vadis." The demand for seats the closing week was so great that two performances were given each day to two separate and distinct companies.

The play tells a story so simple and yet so powerful that it appeals to everybody at once. The pathos is, however, only one side of the picture, for the quaint New England characters who flit about the stage provide plenty of the element of humor to relieve the tension and give opportunity for hearty laughter. There is the bashful Boston professor, always doing the wrong thing, and so absent-minded and diffident that he puts his overdone on his sweetheart's tiny feet, and tries to get her dainty cap over his head; Hi Holler, the other boy, whose infectious laugh and bovine disposition bring him right into the heart sympathy; Martha Perkins, the gossip, who rolls a bit of scandal on her tongue as though it were the most delicious morsel; Seth Holcomb, the rheumatic admirer of Martha's, whose devotion is finally rewarded with a promise of her hand; Rube Whipple, the comical, funny and quaint, with the famous song, "All Round Bound with a Woolen String," and the members of the village choir. These characters represent the comic side of the picture, while Anna Moore, Squire Bartlett and his wife, David, their son, Kate Brewster and Sanderson provide dramatic interest.

Mr. Brady has given the play the handsomest setting ever seen in the West, including the cows, calves, horses, sheep, chickens, ducks, pigeons, and a barn yard in its entirety.

Dr. J. C. Williams

It is exasperating to one who has used Foley's Honey and Tar and knows what it will do, to have a dealer recommend something else as "just the same" or "just as good." There is nothing just as good for colds, coughs, croup, laryngitis, etc. South and Longmoor, W. McKee Hardie.

TEDDY TO DINE HERE.

An invitation has been extended to Gov. Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican members of the Legislature and the citizens of this city to stop off here and take dinner tomorrow, as he passes through on his way to Lexington. The invitation was telegraphed to him at Evansville, Indiana, yesterday morning, but no reply had been received up to the time we went to press.

Don't be humbugged or deceived by people who claim the discovery of some hitherto unknown herb or root in swamps, or on some mountain or prairie, for the cure of kidney and bladder troubles. Any doctor or druggist will tell you that such claims are fraudulent. Foley's Kidney Cure simply contains remedies that are recognized by the most skillful physicians as the best for these complaints, so don't be fooled by outside South and Longmoor, W. McKee Hardie.

DEATH OF CAPT. W. S. B. HILL.

After a severe illness of several weeks Capt. W. S. B. Hill, Sergeant-at-Arms of the Court of Appeals, died at his home, corner of Third and Main streets, this city, on Wednesday night, at 11:30 o'clock, aged 63 years.

Capt. Hill was a pleasant, agreeable and manly gentleman; a brave and gallant soldier in the Confederate Army and a devoted member of the Catholic Church.

He leaves a heart-broken wife and six children—three sons and three daughters, all grown—to mourn his death.

The funeral services were conducted from the Church of the Good Shepherd, at 11 o'clock a. m. yesterday, by Rev. Father Major, after which the remains were deposited in the Catholic Cemetery.

IT HAPPENED IN A DRUG STORE.

"One day last winter a lady came to my drug store and asked for a brand of cough medicine that I did not have in stock," says Mr. C. B. Grandin, the popular druggist of Ontario, N. Y. "She was disappointed and wanted to know what cough preparation I could recommend. I said to her that I could freely recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and that she could take a bottle of the remedy and after giving it a fair trial if she did not find it worth the money to bring back the bottle and I would refund the price paid. In the course of a day or two the lady came back in company with a friend in need of a cough medicine, and advised her to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I consider that a very good recommendation for the remedy." The remedy owes its great popularity and extensive sale in a large measure to the personal recommendations of people who have been cured by its use. It is for sale by J. W. Gayle, Druggist.

LOUISVILLE HORSE SHOW.

The Louisville Horse Show will begin October 15th and continue for five days or evenings. There are nearly 500 entries in the various classes. The horses come from all parts of the United States, and including two carloads from Canada. The fancy classes are exceptionally well filled. The display of jumpers will be one of the best ever seen. Altogether the new show promises to be the most interesting ever held outside of New York City. The Association has been exceptionally fortunate in the choice of judges; they are not only well qualified to pass on the horses, but, as a rule, men of national reputation. Among them are Gen. Nelson A. Miles, who will judge the cavalry horses.

The Horse Show Building, which is now complete, is well adapted to the needs of the show, and it will accommodate 10,000 people. There will be a large attendance from abroad, and the various States will be represented by Honorary Vice-Presidents. Some of the well known people who have accepted the appointment are: Mr. O. H. P. Belmont, of New York; Hon. Tom L. Johnson, of Ohio; Gen. H. C. Corbin, of the District of Columbia; Mr. Henry Fairfax, of Virginia; Mr. May Overton, of Tennessee; and Mr. F. W. Lee, of Missouri.

As this is the first indoor horse show ever attempted in Kentucky the interest taken in it by the home people is unusually large, and the prospects are that Kentucky's reputation for fine horses will be definitely emphasized. The entries from Lexington and the Bluegrass region are numerous, and all the Louisville people who have good horses have entered them. The Association is under control of public-spirited citizens, and the show promises to be first-class in every particular.

FAILED TO CREDIT.

We published in our last issue an article in regard to the education and training of children, which was taken from an educational magazine, and by inadvertence there was a failure to give due credit to the author.

There were some things in the article to which we do not subscribe, but as we were requested to publish it we did so, and intended to credit it to the proper party.

GOOD MAN GONE.

We regret to announce that Mr. Wm. T. Tutt, of Woodford county, died at his home near Millville, on Monday, aged about 55 years.

He was an honest, earnest, upright man, who always tried to do his duty in whatever position he was placed.

He was a steward in the Shiloh Methodist Church, located near his home, and was faithful until the end.

His wife was a Miss Willis, a niece of the late Mr. John M. Hewitt, of this city, and of Mr. B. Willis, late of Versailles but now of Nicholasville.

He leaves a wife and several grown children to mourn his untimely death.

He had been delicate for a year or more, and the end was not unexpected.

The funeral took place on Tuesday, and the remains were buried in our cemetery.

HUSH!

A young man from county school, main in spelling, when the word "husband" was placed on the blackboard. None of the children, however, could pronounce it, and in order to help them she asked: "What would I have if I should get married?" The answer was prompt, but not what she expected, and she blushed such a brilliant red that the sunlight paled. — Richmond Pantograph.

For sprains, swellings and lameness there is nothing so good as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Try it. For sale by J. W. Gayle, Druggist.

DIRECTORS ELECTED.

At a meeting of the Frankfort Cemetery Co., on Tuesday last, the following gentlemen were elected directors to serve for the next five years: F. L. Samuel, B. C. Millan, D. W. Lindsey, G. L. Payne, W. T. Reading, S. C. Bull and Geo. F. Berry.

TRUE AS GOSPEL.

Of all the love affairs in the world none can surpass the true love of a big boy for his mother. It is pure and noble, honorable to the highest degree in both. I do not mean only a dutiable affection; I mean a love that makes a boy gallant and courteous to his mother, showing to everybody that he is fairly in love with her. Next to the love of a husband nothing so crowns a woman's life with honor as this second love—this devotion of a son to her. I never yet knew a boy to turn bad who began by falling in love with his mother. Any man may fall in love with a fresh-faced girl, but the boy who is a lover of his mother in her middle age is a true knight.

WENT TO LEXINGTON.

There was a big crowd of delegates and others who went to Lexington from this city on Wednesday, to attend the Republican Congressional Convention, which assembled there at 11 o'clock on that day.

BAD FALL.

Mr. James Whitehouse, while engaged in painting the residence of Mrs. H. H. Watson, on Wapping street, was so unfortunate as to fall from a ladder, on Tuesday, and badly cripple himself. He was taken to his home at Chateaufort, and has not been able to resume work yet.

CAME NEAR DYING.

"For three days and nights I suffered agony untold from an attack of cholera morbus brought on by eating cucumbers," says M. E. Lowth, clerk of the district court, Centerville, Iowa. "I thought I should surely die, and tried a dozen different medicines, but all to no purpose. I sent for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and three doses relieved me entirely. I went to sleep and did not awake for eight hours. On awakening a few hours ago I felt so gratified that the first work I do on getting the office is to write to the manufacturer of this remedy and offer them my grateful thanks, and say 'God bless you and the splendid medicine you make.' This remedy is for sale by J. W. Gayle, Druggist."

LUSUS NATURÆ.

Mr. Urban Sargent, of Swallowfield, brought to our office on Saturday a sweet potato vine with several blooms on it and a large number of buds. Mr. Sargent said that the potatoes growing on the vine had been a day or two, otherwise the other buds would doubtless have blossomed out.

The blossoms were tinted very much like morning glories and also like cotton plants.

This is the first time we ever saw a thing of the kind, though we understand it is sometimes the case in Mississippi and in France also.

A new remedy for biliousness is now on sale at J. W. Gayle's drug store. It is called Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, it gives quick relief and will prevent the attack if given as soon as the first indication of the disease appears. Price 25 cents per box. Samples free.

WANTED—Two reliable traveling salesmen in each State; permanent position; salary and expenses; experience not absolutely essential. Address Piedmont Tobacco Works, Cincinnati, O. C. 2-6m-14*

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and your grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were a sore, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied that it is not a serious matter with you. For sale by S. B. Holmes. 4 ly.

TRIMBLE WINS.

As everybody knew beforehand would be the case, the Court of Appeals, through Chief Justice Hazlerigg, on Wednesday, decided that as the Democratic State Central Committee had decided that Trimble was the regular nominee that court would not interfere, and, therefore, affirmed Cantrill's decision making Trimble the nominee for Congress in this district.
